Magic Wearing Thin

Whenever faced with a difficulty, we Americans have a talisman, a magic lamp that we have but to rub and all our troubles are enchanted away: we pass a law. It is a convenient arrangement and has only one disadvantage. It doesn't work.

In Salinas the supervisors are preparing to enchant the County juvenile delinquency problem out of existence by passing a curfew law. There have been curfew laws in the United States since ducking-stool days in Vermont and yet the juvenile delinquency problem is still with us. How are we going to solve it by passing yet another curfew law? A law making it illegal for a man to appear on Main Street without a coat on a cold night is not going to warm a coatless man shivering up some alley. A law making it illegal for children to loiter on the streets is not going to give them some other place to gather. The answer, "let them stay home," is no solution. If home had not failed them, they wouldn't be on the street.

The solution is to furnish every child with a loving and intelligent pair of parents who have the means and leisure to provide the right sort of home background and the right social guidance so that young people can take their pleasure entertaining their friends at the family fireside under sympathetic and understanding adult chaperonage.

But since it is somewhat beyond the power of the citizens of any community to provide every child with this ideal set of circumstances, the citizens can do the next best thing; they can provide some sort of recreation center that will serve as a substitute for the favorable home environment that is lacking, a club room where the young people can gather under intelligent and sympathetic adult chaperonage, and learn from the unconscious example of those among them who have been blessed with adequate parents what the parents of the others have failed to teach.

Here in Carmel, the mayor and the P.T.A., after two years, have finally heard the patient appeals of the young people who appear to understand the problem a good deal better than their elders. The mayor and the P.T.A. are now considering the establishment of some sort of club room or recreation center.

Let us hope they get on with the job and succeed so well that they can furnish a working example to the rest of the county that the way to handle a problem effectively is by facing it, getting to the cause of the difficulty and working out a remedy.

Curfew laws are no solution to juvenile delinquency. Carmel passed a curfew law of its own a year ago.

Capt. Wilder, Home from Aleutians Saw Success of Matanuska Project

By IRENE ALEXANDER

Captain Harlan Wilder of the U. S. Army Air Force arrived on Wednesday to spend a twenty-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cree Wilder.

This is young Captain Wilder's first leave since last May when his was the first army plane to land at the Monterey airport. On that occasion his visit was limited to two scant hours,

December 17 Set For Bardarson Day At Both Schools

Bardarson Day will be held at both the high school and Sunset on December 17 it was decided when the Board of Trustees of the O. W. Bardarson Scholarship Fund met Monday night.

Miss Florinda Holm was delegated to initiate arrangements at the high school and Mrs. Vera Peck Millis at Sunset, while Miss Clara Kellogg was deputed to see Mrs. Robert Stanton for the P.T.A. to establish fixed arrangements for box collections on behalf of the fund.

Peter Mawdsley, secretary, reported additional individual subscriptions of $20, since last report on September 21, and a $100 contribution from the Carmel P.T.A., which raised the total to $1,284.01 of which $1,147.00 is in U. S. Savings Bonds. The rest is held in cash. Total expenditure for the first year was $9.54 for treasurer's surety bond, safe deposit box and postage.

Both banks in Carmel are receiving subscriptions to the fund at all times and particulars of the terms of the Trust may be obtained from Peter Mawdsley at City Hall.

Roy Fraties Nabs Paper Passin' Mama

She was a right attractive gal with her dyed red hair and she'd been circulating along the primrose route from Monterey to Pacific Grove to Salinas, paying her way with checks she'd signed with names that weren't her own.

Then she came to Carmel and met nemesis in the form of Barbara Taylor, clerk at the Monterey County Trust and Savings Bank, who knows dyed red hair when she sees it.

Miss Taylor, recognizing her as the woman who was wanted throughout the country on a number of "paper passing" charges, turned her over to William Walker, another bank employee, who stalled her with questions about did she have any means of identifying herself while Miss Taylor phoned Chief Roy Fraties.

The Carmel chief of police made the arrest, much to the gratitude of the sheriff's office which has been wanting to catch up with her for some weeks.

Her name: Joan Basile. Mrs. John Leonard. Mrs. Howard Adams and Mrs. John Martin, mostly alias, though the police favor Joan Basile as the most likely to be genuine.

since the incomplete condition of the field made it necessary for him to lose time in getting permission from Salinas to make the landing, and he had to take off before dark because the lights were not yet operating.

Meanwhile Captain Wilder is entering upon his third year in the Air Corps, and his most recent experiences have centered around the Aleutian theatre of war. While those experiences have included sundry bombing missions, this tall, wide awake young airman, with his ready wit has nothing to say on things military. The rigid censorship under which he has been writing home during all these months still prevails, so far as he is concerned.

"Guess my folks decided I was tundra-happy," he grins.

His keen observation of the country over which he has been flying is another matter. Especially interesting are the reports he brings back of Matanuska, the farm project near Mt. McKinley, just behind Cook's Inlet and ten minutes flying time from Anchorage, about which such storms of criticism and protest arose throughout the country when it was established in 1934 under SERA, later the National Relief Administration. At that time about three or four hundred farmers from the dust bowl region, from South Dakota, Nebraska, Minnesota, Iowa, Kansas, were transplanted out at government expense and furnished with materials for housing and farm equipment and financed for a year, all this charged up against their future earnings. When a few of the less hardy gave up in the face of virgin land, every foot of which had to be cleared, and the pioneer conditions of the new life, the project was loudly denounced as a total failure in most of our leading newspapers and magazines.

The picture of Matanuska today, as Captain Wilder flew back and forth over its rich, well-developed farms—few of them larger than the average of fifteen of twenty acres, its little town of Palmer, with its own hospital, schools and churches, tells quite a different story from the dire predictions of the '30s.

"They're all getting rich," he declares. "I read in the Anchorage Daily Times before I left of one farmer alone making a clear profit of $20,000 from his forty-acre potato crop."

Not only is the ground extremely fertile, but there is the advantage of twenty hours of sunlight through the summer, and frequent rains, so that the growth of crops is phenomenal there. Then, too, these are boom times around Anchorage. Money is useless out on the Aleutian chain, and every trip to Anchorage is the

"Nobody's Going to Dress Our Xmas Tree But Us" Says City Council; Garbage Business, Salaries Wait

The Carmel city council put its garbage problems over another week, but it made its Christmas plans immediately without argument or discussion at its meeting Wednesday night. The members said in effect that Carmel would have its own Christmas tree this year, the city would choose a tree at the foot of Ocean Avenue at the Junipero intersection and that nobody else would be allowed to decorate any other trees down the middle of Ocean Avenue or on any other city property.

Von Urban Again In Hot Water, Asks Jury Trial

Charged with practicing medicine without a license, Rudolph von Urban, consulting psychologist to the county juvenile department, pleaded not guilty yesterday at his arraignment in Judge Ray Baugh's court in Monterey and demanded a jury trial.

Tentative date for the trial was set for December 2.

The complaint was filed by J. W. Williams, special agent for the state medical examiners.

Von Urban, a resident of Carmel Highlands, first brought down the ire of local doctors, over a year ago, when on the occasion of his appointment to the county juvenile department as psychiatrist (title since changed to psychologist) he stated in an interview with the Pine Cone Cymbal that unhappy marriages lead men to drink and that like drinking, all non-contagious maladies, such as asthma, hay fever or cancer, originate in part in mental upset.

No Memorial Service On Armistice Day Committee Decides

Though the practice was started last year, there will be no memorial ceremonies in the Plaza next Thursday, Armistice Day.

The memorial committee, after meeting with the American Legion members and sounding out community opinion decided that only one memorial ceremony should be held a year and that would be celebrated more appropriately on Memorial Day.

The announcement was made Wednesday following a meeting of the monument committee made up of Fred Bechdolt, P. A. McCreery, Ernest Morehouse and E. H. Ewig.

Carmel Schools Lead in Student Chest Donations

Carmel students and teachers have responded to the appeal of the War Chest with a spirit that set a record among Peninsula schools. Both the high school and Sunset made the Honor Roll, as did their faculties separately.

With student gifts of $102.94 the high school has the 8th grade leadership to thank, with Miss Hazel Sener in charge. Sunset's $54.94 was due to the enthusiastic work of the Committee of War Study, with 6th grader Joan Daniels, chairman, and under the guidance of Miss Mary Spayd.

Officers of the War and Community Chest yesterday expressed their appreciation of the co-operative leadership of Principals Get-singer of the high school and Mrs. Helen Cowen Wood of Sunset.

Heretofore the Business Association has decorated the trees while the city furnished the wherewithall to decorate. As the city owns the lights and equipment for dressing a tree, the council decided that the city might as well do the job itself. The council delegated William Askew, street superintendent, to make arrangements with the P. G. and E. for free power and to direct the street crew to deck the designated tree with lights when the appropriate time arrives.

The garbage discussion became involved when the councilmen tried to decide on what should be the legal size of "waste" containers. The city ordinance specifies the size of garbage container—maximum, 16 gallons, but though the ordinance provides that the garbage collector must also haul away a "waste" container at a specified price, the size has never been standardized. John Roscelli, Carmel garbage contractor, and the merchants of the town have come into disagreement in the matter of charge for hauling away paper cartons and material that would normally go into the "waste" container.

After doing tricks for twenty minutes with a foot ruler and indulging in considerable argument about cubic feet and gallons and pounds, the various councilmen, unable to reach an agreement as to what size the container should be and whether or not it should be limited as to weight, turned the matter over to the city attorney, Peter Ferrante and the commissioner of health and safety, Fred Godwin, with instructions "to talk it over with John."

Put over also until a later meeting was the request of Councilman L. L. Dewar for a $15 a month raise for the fire engine drivers, and Tax Collector Thomas Hefling's request for a $25 a month salary raise.

Requests for business license transfers were granted to Marie E. Y. Johnson for Margaret Swayze; to the Union Oil Company for K. E. Johansen.

Carmel Man Made Rent Head for Monterey County

Announcement of the appointment of Wesley W. Korgan, Carmel attorney, as director-attorney for the new Monterey Bay Defense Rental Area was made Monday by Henry A. Cross, OPA District Rent executive and Luther M. Carr, District Rent Counsel.

Korgan came to live in Carmel this spring following thirty-one years of active law practice in San Francisco. He is a graduate of the University of California.

He was in San Francisco this week conferring with OPA officials but will be back Friday when he is expected to announce the appointment of his deputies. Main office will be in Monterey.

Join The WACS Our Army Needs You For a Big Job NOW!

Vital Questions and Answers About The Woman's Army Corps

Why Are Women Needed for Military Service?

It's true that in other wars the role of women has been a gentle one—to keep the home fires burning bright. But this war is different. It is more desperate and terrible than any war has ever been before. An urgent call has gone out from our Army. You, the women of America, are needed in the WAC to serve with your soldiers. Can you fail to answer—when it may be within your power to help shorten the war and save the lives of American soldiers?

In the Army there are many vital tasks which you can do—tasks which can often be done better by women than by men. From Army officers everywhere come urgent messages: "The Wacs are doing a great job. Give us more." But there aren't enough Wacs to send. You are needed by our Army. You are needed now!

What if I've Had no Special Training?

Even if you've had no special training, even if you've never worked before, the WAC needs you. And in the WAC you may learn a skill that'll be useful the rest of your life—a skill that will give you a real career!

Can I Become an Officer?

You bet you can, if you have the stuff. Officers are badly needed. Every girl who joins the WAC has an equal chance to become one. You don't need a college degree. You don't even need a high school diploma—just the two years of high school or business school required for all members of the WAC. At the end of your basic training, you can apply for Officer Candidate School if you've done well in basic training, and have been recommended by your Commanding Officer. Officers' training lasts six weeks.

How Much Will I Be Paid?

WAC pay is the same as Army pay for corresponding rank. And good pay it is!

WAC Grade	Equivalent Army Grade	Pay (per month)
Chief Leader	Master Sergeant	$138.00
First Leader	First Sergeant	138.00
Technical Leader	Technical Sergeant	114.00
Staff Leader	Staff Sergeant	96.00
Leader	Sergeant	78.00
Junior Leader	Corporal	66.00
Auxiliary, 1st Class	Private, 1st Class	54.00
Auxiliary	Private	50.00

Officers of the WAC are paid the same as U. S. Army officers of equivalent rank. They are given additional compensation for quarters and rations. All medical and dental care is also furnished.

Why Is the WAC More Important Than Other War Work?

There are many jobs at home to be done in this war. Important jobs. Useful jobs. But there are many people who can do them. Older women, teen-age girls, women ineligible for the WAC. Only a special group of women can serve in the WAC. Only women, without dependents—of a certain age and physical condition. If you fit the requirements, then joining the WAC is the most important job you can do in this war. You, and only you, can help our soldiers where they need you most!

War Chest Honor Roll

Third Carmel list of patriotic donors to Nation's War Chest by a Chest Worker

Many persons and business houses have made real sacrifices in order to double their last year's Chest gifts, and laborers have given 3 days' pay to make the Honor Roll. 46 have given from $100 to $600. 206 are on the Honor Roll.

SIX REASONS why many have not made the Honor Roll.

1. Scores of residents were away when Chest solicitors called. Some others refused as follows—

2. "We never give to anything like that." With those incredible words many fine Carmel doors were closed on our tired, faithful volunteer Chest workers. Man, may your conscience yet persuade you. Woman, in your troubled dreams may you see the hunger-stricken bodies of millions of children; and may you see the faces of homesick soldier boys cheered by the fine USO which the War Chest so largely supports.

3. "Sorry, but I haven't got $20 right now." Your credit is good with the War Chest. Give $5 now; pay the balance quarterly.

4. "I'm on charity myself." Accepted, little lady. But, dear reader, this is not Charity. It's an opportunity; your chance to repay, in part, something to those who have stood between you and the horrors of War.

5. "Here's $2." Gratefully received when given at a sacrifice. Otherwise, is it thinking the matter through to give about 10c each for the 22 great causes at stake?

6. "Didn't understand Honor Roll, or I'd have given more." Not too late, dear friend.

THE HONOR ROLL—all of last year's Community Chest donors of $10, or more, who this year at least "give double"; or any other donor of $20 or more. Checks may be made out simply to War Chest, Box 23, Carmel.

Mrs. Rendtorff Talks on Life of David Starr Jordan

David Starr Jordan, furnished the theme for Mrs. Karl G. Rendtorff's talk before the Women's Auxiliary of the Church of the Wayfarer on Tuesday afternoon. For almost forty years, covering student days and the time she was a "faculty wife" at Stanford University, the speaker had close acquaintance with the noted leader in education and science.

A meeting with Dr. Jordan in her first summer in California influenced her to enter Stanford University and bound all the rest of her life to that institution. No one else, said she, has "done so much for me in mental and spiritual development." Her account of the acquaintance sparkled with anecdotes of his humor, his wise guidance of youth, his scientific penetration. She read samples of the jingles he wrote, accompanied by amusing drawings.

On the occasion of their first meeting, a picnic on the beach at La Jolla, some men in the party asked about the octopus, whether Dr. Jordan had seen any, whether there might be any at that beach. The scientist, who was there on his duties as expert on the U. S. Fish Commission replied that probably there was one under a large rock in the edge of the water. It took three men to turn the rock over, and sure enough there was an octopus of almost three-foot spread. The scientist explained that while eating lunch he thought he had seen the huge rock move.

Mrs. Rendtorff took Dr. Jordan's two courses in biology, and also work with his two assistants, Vernon Kellogg and Dr. Thoburn. All three of the men were constant early visitors to Carmel and are well remembered here, where the latter's son entered business. After the death of Dr. Thoburn in 1899 the university president paid tribute to him in the article, "Religion of a Sensible American."

At the business meeting a new constitution was read. After discussion it went over to next month for a vote. Mrs. Grace Howden, president of the auxiliary, was in charge of the meeting. —L. L. T.

WAR CHEST WINDOW

Mrs. Pat Cunningham, popular and talented Carmel artist, donated many hours of her busy life to create the display now attracting attention in the window of the Community and War Chest office on Ocean avenue in the Kip Silvey building. Little black V's climbing up the sides of a pyramid toward the large V at the top, final victory of the total goal of $64,400, mark the progress of the campaign. Grouped at the foot of the pyramid stand colorful figures picturing a mute but powerful appeal for aid for the unhappy people of France, Poland, China and Greece, as well as the European Children and Prisoner's Aid which represent a few of the War Relief agencies for which this drive is collecting money.

Mrs. Wenk Tells Women's Club of Canadian Rambles

Canadian Rambles, a talk by Mrs. Violette Maguire Wenk at the regular meeting of the Carmel Woman's club on Monday, November 1, gave an accurate picture of life entirely foreign to ordinary experience.

Born in White Horse, Yukon Territory, Canada, Mrs. Wenk has lived in nearly every section of Canada, including the far north, Quebec and British Columbia, the Peace River country and in the Hudson Bay region. She gave a word picture of the French Canadian farming country and of the Dukabors.

Having crossed the Arctic circle on sled, driven dog-trains and traveled on pack animals, Mrs. Wenk was familiar with the different kinds of transportation and pictured most vividly the hardships and unusual experiences of her early childhood and adult life. She described the famous red-coated "mounties" and their functions and told of the Dukabors who came from Rumania in 1905 after leaving Russia, to settle in Canada, their venture financed in large part by the Canadian government.

Of its other population, the largest number are from the British Isles; second numerically are the French Canadians and third are the peoples of northern Europe. The Indian makes up a good part of the population in some sections and the Negro numbers a few hundred. —K. L.

Mabel Gilbert

Mabel Gilbert, 50, wife of Mr. Fred Gilbert, died on the evening of Saturday, October 30, at a local rest home, following an illness of about eight months.

A native of South Dakota, Mrs. Gilbert came to Carmel with her family a year ago. In addition to her husband, she is survived by four daughters, Gladys, Dorothy, Eileen and Golda Gilbert, and four sons, Lloyd, Lyle, Kenneth and Ward Gilbert, all of Carmel except Lloyd Gilbert, now in the U. S. Army and Lyle Gilbert of Salinas. Also surviving are Mrs. Gilbert's mother, Mrs. Emma Knudson of Puyallup, Washington and a sister, Mrs. C. L. Vandervort of Carmel.

occasion for a spending spree. "You don't know anything about the high cost of living till you shop around in Anchorage," said Captain Wilder. "Milk costs you forty-five cents a quart. A steak dinner at the Lido Club costs five dollars. You can get trousers cleaned for a dollar and a half unless you demand twenty-four service—then it costs two dollars and a quarter. Waiters in the restaurants get twenty-five dollars a night, and the salary of the chef in a small eating place earns eight hundred a month."

Flying over that northern country opened up its beauty for Captain Wilder—and betrayed its challenge. During June and July he loved the "nights" when the sun barely dipped below the horizon, leaving a rosy glow in the sky. He flew over the Malspina glacier—larger than the whole state of Rhode Island, with soil and trees topping its thousand feet depth of ice and the Chugash Mountains, wild and uncharted, unsurpassed in scenic beauty, but in which a flyer, if forced down, would have small chance of being found. Weather, too, was highly undependable, with sudden thunder storms—and wind.

"I never saw anything like that wind! You'd be flying along with the wind blowing forty miles in one direction, and wham! All of a sudden it would switch, and double back on its track."

Out over the Aleutian chain he was struck by its wild barrenness. Nowhere among those volcanic

Course Approved For Institute

Word came this week from the office of the county superintendent of schools that the Carmel Adult School course in "Current Problems in Education" had been approved for county institute credit. No formal teachers institute will be held this year, due to transportation and housing difficulties, but each teacher must submit a report showing attendance before the end of December at a minimum of ten hours of approved workshops, seminars and concerts. Not more than two concerts may be submitted.

The local course is given by Dr. E. O. Sisson, nationally known educator and professor of philosophy and education, and J. W. Getsinger local superintendent of schools. It meets on Monday evening at 7:30 in the library at Sunset school.

rocks does the grass grow more than waist high. Occasionally, too, one comes upon live volcanoes, like Gareloi, surmounted by its cloud of steam and white smoke.

"Good land for foxes," he commented. "Many of the boys made pets of them, but they never got over being wild. Once you let them out, they ran away."

Captain Wilder encountered a few familiar faces up north: "Swede" Turner, Vernon Wills, Jean Stewart, from Carmel Valley and Mary Hobson—old schoolmates from the days when he attended Monterey high school—for the Wilder family has lived in Carmel since 1932.

Of his destination when this twenty-day furlough is up—"That's a military secret," he says cheerfully.

Honoring Soldier Artists

A formal dance was given by the Carmel Art Association last Sunday evening at the art gallery in honor of the soldier artists whose exhibit opened at the gallery on October 15 and will continue until November 15. Assisting Mrs. Elizabeth Cass in receiving were Captain and Mrs. H. Stanton Rhone, Mrs. Richard Sears, Mrs. Jane Boone, Mrs. Martin Gambee, Mrs. Jane Fitch, Miss Hazel Dale, Mrs. Loa Lloyd, Miss Kraig Short, Miss Clancy Jefferys, Mrs. Kay Rodgers, Mrs. Mary Schorer, Mrs. Connie Flavin, Miss Jane Fyelling and Miss Maeve Greenan. Decorations for the dance were in charge of Mrs. T. B. Wilson and Mrs. James Cooke. Supplementing the hospitality of the Art Association Mrs. John Clay, Dr. Margaret Levick and Mrs. Hazel McIndoe contributed materials for the punch, which was made at the home of Mrs. Edith Greenan.

Girl Scout Week Opened With Church Attendance Sunday

Girl Scout Week was officially opened in Carmel last Sunday morning at All Saints' Church by Reverend C. J. Hulsewe in a message specially prepared for Girl Scouts.

Inspired by the eagerly shining faces of the Girl Scouts seated at his right and of the choir boys seated at his left, some of whom are Scouts or Cubs, the Reverend Hulsewe presented teachings from the Bible with so loving an approach that a deep and lasting impression must have been made on the minds and hearts of his youthful listeners. He sought to stress the importance of engaging in any act of service wholeheartedly by giving a little more rather than a little less than expected.—G. H.

Sullivan, Hanna, Brown on M. A. C. Program Sunday

Three artists—two of whom are well known to Peninsula music lovers, will be presented by the Musical Art club in its next concert on Sunday, November 14, in the music room of the Carmel high school.

The program will consist of two-piano numbers by Gerita Hanna and Irene Brown and a group of songs by Noel Sullivan.

Gerita Hanna, accomplished accompanist and teacher of piano, studied at the Cornish school of music in Seattle. In Los Angeles she studied organ and music pedagogy. In Washington and San Diego and with Walter Kelsey of Carmel, Mrs. Hanna concentrated upon the mastery of violin technique.

Irene Brown, a prominent teacher of piano in San Diego, has had wide experience in two-piano concert work, for which she studied with Fred Klosterman in San Diego and Dent Mowry of Portland. Miss Brown has appeared in Hollywood in two-piano concert numbers with the symphony under the direction of Usigli.

The fine, sympathetic bass voice of Noel Sullivan needs no local introduction. For this occasion he has chosen Dichterliebe, Opus 48, a song cycle by Schumann. This cycle, judged by critics perhaps Schumann's most admirable treatment of song setting, interprets certain poems from Heine's Buch der Lieder in such a way as to lay bare the soul of man. It is believed that the experience through which Schumann passed in 1840, the year he composed the Dichterliebe, here found expression in a note of deep significance.

A Lecture on Christian Science Entitled Christian Science: Exchanging Human Concepts for Divine

by
Anna E. Herzog, C. S. B. of Columbus, Ohio
Member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

INTRODUCTION TO LECTURE by

Mrs. Gertrude N. Johnson
Friends: Many years ago a group of God-loving and God-worshipping people broke asunder the bands that would dominate and oppress them and came to a land where they could love and worship God with freedom. In course of time, this country, whose very foundation is freedom, made possible the birth of Christian Science. The Principle of this Science unfolds to all the world the highest possible sense of freedom for it intimately acquaints man with God and so with His all-powerful and ever-operative laws, and these laws free man from the enslaving beliefs of mortal mind. We read in the Bible in the 8th chapter of John, "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free," and in our textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, we read that Christian Science "sets free the imprisoned thought." (114-23).

The subject of the lecture we are to hear this evening is "Christian Science, Exchanging Human Concepts for Divine." As this exchange is made through the study of this Science, man finds that he is indeed free and that freedom is his birthright.

Mrs. Anna E. Herzog of Columbus, Ohio, who will address us, is a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

Mrs. Herzog stated that, in human experience, Christian Science exchanges mortal ignorance for spiritual understanding, sin for righteousness, disease for health, lack and limitation for sufficiency, and failure, frustration, discouragement, and apathetic routine for successful activity and a rich and fruitful experience.

The lecturer explained what a marvelous understanding of God was possessed by the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy. Her position as interpreting the spiritual message of the Bible and as reaffirming and amplifying the teachings of Jesus, qualifies her as undisputed Leader of the Christian Science movement and as revelator of the truth about God and man to the world.

Christian Science exchanges a belief in a personal God for a true understanding of God as Spirit, Mind, Life, and Love, the speaker said.

Our thinking needs to be enlarged; our expectancy must be increased; our mental horizons must be broadened; our human concepts must be exchanged for the divine consciousness, the lecturer said.

Prayer, as understood in Christian Science, is close and always possible mental communion with God, Mrs. Herzog explained. It is the reflection of the divine Mind.

The speaker pointed out that today we all have a great work to do. Never was right thinking more needed, she said. We must realize that even in human warfare the mental attitude of the spiritually awake differs greatly from that of others. The spiritually-minded see that all conflict is between error and Truth.

FROM ENGLAND

From a former Carmel citizen, Metz Durham, living in England, comes a letter to the Pine Cone giving a picture of civilian life as it is at present in London and Nottingham.

Mr. Durham, after serving with the Canadian Regulars in the First World War, came to Carmel where he soon became active in community life participating in the vigorous dramatic movement of the period. His police dog, Bob, who waited on customers at Mr. Durham's hardware store on Ocean between San Carlos and Mission when the proprietor went to the post office for the mail became a Carmel character about whom old timers still tell anecdotes.

Carmel men in the armed forces have a standing invitation to visit the Durham home in England, an invitation Mr. Durham extended through the Pine Cone nearly a year ago.

Owing to what we thought was the uncertainty of the mail service across the Atlantic, we sent a card to Mr. Durham enquiring if he was getting his Pine Cone on schedule and asking him how things were with him over there.

His answer follows:

Nottingham, England
September 15, 1943

Editor, The Pine Cone:

Thank you for your card and inquiry as to the "Pine Cone" reaching me regularly. Yes, indeed, we are apparently receiving every copy, and I can assure you that I read it from cover to cover.

I cannot tell you anything very interesting about the war, because as far as I can make out, I am about the only one I know of who has absolutely no inside information, and anything I could tell you about national events would be a month old by the time it reached you!

I have just returned from a trip to London where I go periodically to visit our London office and warehouses: they are located at 6, Tooley street—you cross the London Bridge and find a stairway leading down from the buttment of the bridge to a typical London dockland area smelling of coffee, tea, tobacco and spices. A filthy place really, but very interesting. Our building there is sadly pockmarked with bomb splinters, and all of the glass has not yet been replaced, nor is it apt to be until the end of the war. However, battle scars are fashionable these days, so it does not worry us, nor make a bad impression on our customers. Our head offices and factory in Nottingham have not been touched, so we have a great deal to be thankful for.

Does the London stage interest you? I always manage to see one or two shows when I am in London, and on this last occasion saw "The Lisbon Story," now running at the Hippodrome—spectacular, well dressed, catchy music, good dancing, but the tempo just a little bit down. Also saw "Blythe Spirit" which is in its third year at the Duchess. I always enjoy anything by Noel Coward, and this is a particularly sparkling comedy.

The Savoy is closed at the moment, much to my disappointment, as I usually stay at the Savoy Hotel and find it very convenient to slip into the theater in the blackout. They have just finished a run of "The Man Who Came to Dinner"—I wonder if Ted Kuster has read that play? The title role would make an excellent part for him, and I imagine he would enjoy doing it.

London is full of Americans—it is almost impossible to get a room in any hotel without booking a week in advance, and even then it is very difficult to get into the best places. I sat next to two American officers—both Harvard men—at the theater the other night, and afterwards took them to dinner at the Coq d'Or on Stratton street. I missed the rows of chickens on the revolving electric grills, and the mountain of oysters in the shell. The food, however,

SONG AGAINST SUICIDE

*The boys and girls were sitting
Before the fire of coals
Sadly, and one was saying
"My dears, it is All Souls;*

*"Of all the months November
Is happiest," she said,
"For this one month is sacred
To the dear unknown dead."*

*"The world is torn and tortured . . .
"Oh happy, happy dead!
"Which of us here now living
"Would not choose death instead?"*

*They listened, nodded wisely,
Those children by the fire;
"Yes, Sylvia's right," they murmured,
"Calm death is our desire."*

*I looked and wept to see them
And hear the words they said:
How hard the world they long for
I knew, for I was dead.*

—R. ELLIS ROBERTS

SAINT MARTIN'S SUMMER

*There are two Novembers—
Strange kinfellows, it seems to me.
Yesterday the younger brother came smiling,
As if to apologize for the barbarian
Who had gone in hiding for a time.*

*Glad of the week Saint Martin had blessed for him,
Kind November spread over wood and field
His gentle magic, gilding the red-brown oaks,
Hanging a gauze of amethyst
All round the meadows,
Hushing the impatient wind
To stillness, giving to the narrowed world
The unconvincing golden dust of dream.*

—CHARLES BALLARD

SOLILOQUY

*In sudden words my wrath and rapture broke
As in a conflagration without smoke:
I pondered lightning, and its thunder spoke.*

*Nothing is quite so eloquent as pain
Or passion or a quick thought in the brain,
Poems that speak electric words again.*

—CARL JOHN BOSTELMANN

was quite good except for the pastry, which would be rather encouraging to anyone who happened to be worrying about the leather shortage! However, my guests seemed to enjoy their dinner, and were surprised at being able to obtain some choice French wine.

Nottingham is quite an interesting city, but frankly, I have not had the time to study it. When I get a holiday, my first thought is of a fishing stream, and we have some pretty good ones not too far away. This year I went up to the neighborhood of the Isaac Walton district, and spent a fortnight dry fly fishing, and landed several beauties. I have some fishing rights quite close to Nottingham—about nine miles out—at Newstead Abbey, which was once the home of Lord Byron. When we go out there, Hazel wanders round the Abbey while I climb into a boat and spend the day on the lake. It is a beautiful spot, but a rather dry year has played havoc with the trout. Two years ago the surface of the lake used to boil when the evening rise was on. Tell Ernie Schweninger he had better come along and look me up—I will show him some real sport.

This afternoon I am forming a party to shoot over our farm at Bunny, just a few miles from here, and we expect to get a good bag of hares, rabbits, pheasants and partridges. Not many young birds this year, as we have had a dry season which does not suit them too well, but there appear to be several coveys of French partridge from previous years, and we are hoping for some good sport.

Hazel joins me in kindest regards and best wishes to the "Pine Cone" staff, and to our old Carmel friends.

Yours very sincerely,
Metz Durham

FROM CANADA

George Smith, son of Cecil T. Smith, who left his bride here several months ago when he went to White Horse, Yukon, to work on the Alcan highway, writes home:

Utah Construction Company, Camp 9
White Horse, Y.T., Canada

Editor, the Pine Cone:

This week we hooked up the last foot of road between Fairbanks, Alaska and White Horse, Y. T., Canada, making the Alcan road an all weather highway from the States to Alaska.

A lot has been said about this road, but unless a person can see the actual construction under way or in a moving picture, he can never know what obstacles have to be overcome. For instance, there is muskeg. Walking on muskeg is like walking on an inflated inner tube, and if you break through, you are up to your waist in soft mud, then, because the moss is a very good insulator, you hit ice which never melts.

Of course, all of the road is not built on muskeg. Some of it crosses rivers, of which there are quite a few.

When the chinook winds start, the snow and glaciers melt so fast that little streams spread out until they fill whole valleys, and the trees and rocks that are washed down by the flood take out the bridges as if they were made out of toothpicks.

You could build large steel bridges, but when you look for solid rock to set your bridge on, and find only ice for 20 to 50 feet straight down, you are apt to be discouraged.

Before you start any construction work at all, you have to have your equipment on the job. To do this in some places, you have to build a raft to float the tractor across the stream. Then you hook a cable to your trucks and drag them through the river. When they are on the other side, the drivers and mechanics have to drain the motors and fuel tanks to get the water out.

Then there is the business of quarters for the

SUNSET SCHOOL NOTES

Planting A Garden

The sixth grade planted a bacteria garden. Bacteria are one celled plants. There are two kinds of bacteria, the kind that helps us and the kind that causes disease. Our gardens are planted in six petri dishes. The petri dishes have in them a jelly made of potato water and agar. We exposed five of these gardens to these different things; air, fingers, pennies, and a pencil point. The other one we sealed so that no bacteria would grow in it. By Monday we hope we can see bacteria growing. —Barbara Bolton, grade 6.

Gift Boxes

Sunset school has packed Christmas boxes for unfortunate children in other allied countries. In these boxes there are marbles, combs, tooth-brushes, bows, games, soaps, wash-cloths, dolls, handkerchiefs and other pretty gifts. All over the United States, schools are packing Christmas boxes. The children of other countries get one box each. They will appreciate the boxes very much. From Sunset school we are sending 24 boxes. I think everyone in the school is as happy to give these gifts as the children will be to receive them. We wish them a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. —Bobby Sapsis, grade 6.

Caterpillars

Our room is crawling this week; but don't be afraid, it's just caterpillars! Miss Sener sent us some moth eggs. Last Friday they hatched into baby caterpillars. We didn't know what kind they were, so we went to the library for a book. The book said that they were caterpillars of the Painted Arachnis moth. They eat lupin leaves and violet leaves. We are going to watch them at school. We hope they will live, and spin cocoons and turn into moths. —Judith O'Rear, grade 2.

Spider Eggs

There was a lot of excitement in our room last week. Gretchen and Billy brought some spider egg cases to school. On Tuesday they hatched into baby spiders. They were tiny and there were lots of them. They made a web to the top of the glass and pulled the rest of the egg cases up into the web. —Donell Wilson, grade 2.

Our New Classmate

We have a new boy. His name is Dick Nidever. He comes from San Pedro. He likes to build model airplanes. He also likes to hunt with a .22 rifle and to fish. He is eleven years old and in the sixth grade. —John Gibbs, grade 6.

The Ugly Worms

We had some ugly worms in our room. They made cocoons and then they will be moths or butterflies. —Nancie Veit, grade 4.

Our Christmas Boxes

We are collecting pine cones and shells for the sick soldiers at Fort Ord. They make necklaces to send to their wives or girls. We fixed boxes to send to the refugee children over on the war front. —Nancy Steffanoff, grade 3.

The Red Cross

The Red Cross sends gifts afar Across the open sea To England, to China and to France To children like you and me.

They're sending boxes filled with toys. And collecting money too. Dolls and beads and toys for boys We're all helping, so please, won't you? —Joan Sanders, grade 6.

Christmas

Our class bought a doll. My mother dressed it. We are going to send it to a little refugee girl. —Alice Ann McKelvy, grade 3.

Boy Scout

I am going to be a Cub. I am glad. I think it will be fun. —LeRoy Palmer, grade 3.

Election

Our new class officers are: President, Ann Whitaker; vice-president, John Haussermann, secretary-treasurer, Edelen Cory. We usually have our meetings in the library on Tuesday afternoons. After the business meeting we often have a short program. Last time Phyllis Rogers played a Hindu song and a composition of her own. We enjoyed it. —Ann Ferrante, grade 6.

My Kitten

I have a new kitten. I have had her for about two weeks. Her name is Blackie and she has markings just like a skunk. I was going to call her Skunky but I thought it was too mean. Blackie has little white patches and all of her feet are white. They look like boots. —Marie Fletcher, grade 6.

Our Book Chart

Our class has a book chart. It shows how many library books a child has read. There is one girl in the class who has read ten books. She has read more books than anyone else. Her name is Dianna Charlton. Joan Daniels has read eight; Barbara Quill, five; Delora Sharp, five; Barbara Bolton, three, and I have read four. Many of the other children have read one or two books. But there are some who have not reported a single book so far. —Bernadetta France, grade 6.

Hallowe'en

Hallowe'en is at night. The owls screech and howl As the witches fly by, And the pumpkins let out A great glaring light. —Barry McCrea, grade 4.

Hallowe'en Party

We had a Hallowe'en party last Friday in our room. We played "Pin-the-nose-on-the-pumpkin." Linda Cass won first prize and David Alexander won second prize. Roger Wickersham won the first prize for musical chairs. —The First Grade

Buddy

My brother, Buddy, came home Monday. He gave me 20 mm. shells and a model plane book. He told my father and me all about shooting down Jap planes and how they do it.

—Joey Diekemper, grade 5.

Hallowe'en Program

Last Friday the children in our room wore costumes to school. We had a program. Some of the children told stories and danced or gave a play. Barbara Hallard was the announcer. My mother bought some cookies for the class. We ate the cookies and had a wonderful time.

One girl did a Hawaiian dance. Stories about Hallowe'en and murders were told. I told a story with my colored mask on. I talked like a colored mammy, too. Our program lasted one hour and five minutes. Then we went home. That ended a perfect day. —Rachel Dunnington, grade 5.

Lost and Found

Chuck Walter's turtle, Lightnin', was found this morning. Sue Dunnington saw him walking across the room and told the class. It was two weeks ago that Lightnin' climbed out of his aquarium in the second grade room and disappeared. Both the turtle and the children are happy. —Grade 2.

Sports

I don't know if the boys were praying to the sun god or not, but we did get to play one afternoon of intramural football. The Avengers evened it up with the Pennygrabbers, coming from behind to win 12-6. The Zekes and the Morons played to a dull 6-6 tie.

The week in P. E. was: Wednesday—Dodgers 6, Skunks 0; Bardoes 6, Yanks 0. Thursday—Charles Olmsted's All-Stars 2, Earl Wight's All-Stars 0. Monday—Dodgers 14, Bardoes 6; Yanks 0, Skunks 0.

So just hold back the clouds! —Billy Ford, Sports Editor

Army-Navy Tests For College to Be Held Here Tuesday

The Army-Navy qualifying tests for boys who will graduate from high school before March 1, 1944, or have already graduated, will be given in the music room at the Carmel high school on Tuesday morning, November 9th at 9 a.m. Those who wish to take the test must secure an admission card from Mrs. Davis at the high school prior to the day the test is given, and must be present at the examination room at 8:45 a.m.

The applicant must declare whether he is taking the test for the army, or for the navy, he may not declare for both. The same test is given for either branch of the service.

Those who are successful will be notified of the result by the army, or the navy. Those who are selected by the services will be sent to colleges for varying periods of time, for instruction at the expense of the federal government, with books, tuition, subsistence and uniforms furnished, and in addition are paid as privates in the army, or seamen in the navy.

Taking the test does not obligate the candidate to accept the training if it is offered. Once training has been accepted the student must keep his grades and conduct up to the standards of the service. Should he fail to do so he is transferred to a line service organization. A number of Carmel high school boys are now being trained under this plan, several of them having returned during the past week for a brief vacation between semesters.

It is expected that a similar examination will be given in April 1944 for those boys who will graduate from high school next June.

Conserve GAS and ELECTRICITY

UNCLE SAM asks you to be vigilant against waste, and practice war time economy in your use of Gas and Electricity. That means lamps and appliances must last longer. That brings about the savings of essential metals such as brass, copper, chrome, tungsten, etc. That means money saved with which to buy more War Bonds. Some useful suggestions for preventing the waste of gas and electricity are given below...

- A once-a-week dusting of lamp shades and bulbs can increase light output as much as 30 per cent.
- Wherever possible make a good reading lamp serve two or more members of your family.
- Use the right lamp for every lighting need. You get 50% more light from a 150 watt globe than you do from THREE fifty watters.
- Keep your refrigerator at medium or economical operating speed. Defrost once a week and add years of life to your refrigerator.
- Set hot foods aside to cool off to room temperature before you store them in your refrigerator.
- Repair dribbling hot water faucets. 90 drops a minute waste 350 gallons of hot water in a month.
- For a quick hand rinse use cold water. Why draw gallons of hot water through cold pipes for half pint use?
- Use your range oven for roasting and baking... not for heating.
- When a pot boils turn the heat low. Food cooks just as quick and your kitchen gets less steamy.

Carmel Honeymoon

Lieutenant and Mrs. James Harvey Short have just returned to Berkeley after spending a honeymoon in Carmel, where the groom's family has been well known since 1904, when his grandmother, Mrs. Jessie Short Jackson first established a home here. Both the young lieutenant and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Vernon Short of Berkeley, have a wide circle of friends on the Peninsula.

Lt. Short's marriage to Miss Margaret Lewis Duncan, daughter of Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. Scott Duncan of Camp Wheeler, Georgia, took place on October 5 in historic old Grace Church, Camden, S. C. Following the ceremony they were tendered a reception by Col. and Mrs. Hoyt Rockefeller, and a second gathering in their honor took place on Sunday, October 17, at the Berkeley home of Lt. Short's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Wilson, when 250 guests, numbering among them representatives from many of Berkeley's pioneer families, assembled to greet the young couple.

Lt. Short, a graduate of West Point, has been stationed at Fort Benning, Georgia, and expects to depart soon for maneuvers at Fort Lewis, Washington. Pending military orders, the new Mrs. Short will remain in Berkeley as the guest of her husband's parents.

Lt. Short's brother, Irving Short, is at present in Louisiana and has passed his examinations for officers' school.

Betrothal Announced

Betrothal cards carrying the names of Virginia Clea Crichton and Gordon Russell Ewig, Y.S.N.R., were received in the mail this week. Their engagement was announced to immediate members of both families at dinner at the Mark Hopkins Hotel in San Francisco on October 30th.

Gordon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Ewig of Carmel. He has one brother, Stanley. Until his recent entrance into the United States Naval Reserve, he attended Stanford University where he was a Delta Chi Fraternity man. He has recently been home on leave, but is now at Norfolk, Virginia completing the training period prior to receiving his commission. "Ginnie," as she is known to her intimates, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Crichton of Piedmont. She has a sister, Ann. The future bride attended the University of California where she was a member of the Delta Gamma sorority.

As yet there has been no date set for the wedding.

William Judson Promoted

Word was received this week that William S. Judson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chapel Judson of Carmel, has been promoted from private first class to corporal. Corporal Judson, who was assigned to the San Diego Fighter Wing last March, is well known on the Peninsula. He attended the Del Monte Military Academy at Pacific Grove, later going on to the University of California and to the University of Oregon, where he was affiliated with Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

Irene Wilson in Indiana

Miss Irene Wilson is now attending WAVE Storekeepers' school in Indiana.

Costume Party

Sam Colburn's studio in Carmel Woods was the scene on Saturday evening of a gay and colorful gathering in the mood and costume of Old Carmel.

Kimsey Sisters in Florida

The Misses Ethel and Barbara Kimsey, recent WAVE recruits from Carmel, are now attending a new school for WAVES in Florida, where they are studying gunnery. Upon completion of their course, they will be qualified as instructors.

It's Major White Now

Word comes this week of the promotion of William Gail White, son of Mrs. Willis G. White, from the rank of Captain to Major in the U. S. Army. Major White was born in Carmel, graduated from Sunset school and Monterey high and attended San Jose State College, meanwhile gaining an enthusiasm for things military by four years' attendance at the Del Monte Citizens' camp. Following seven years' service in the U. S. Marine Corps, he returned to Carmel, purchasing a home on Torres and Third streets, where he lived with his wife and two sons, Earl and John, until he re-entered the service, this time choosing the infantry. Now Major White is stationed as instructor at Camp Clayborne in Alabama, where Mrs. White has joined him. Earl and John are attending military school.

Doris Evans to Wed

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Doris Evans and Major Benjamin Berry Kercheval was made on Thursday evening at a Halloween desert-bridge party given by Miss Evans and her mother, Mrs. Emma Evans, in their home on Junipero street. Guests for the occasion included Miss Peggy Gargiulo, Miss Tiny Johnston, Miss Mary Uzzell, Miss Marjorie Wermuth, Miss Edith Cox and Mrs. M. C. Holden, the former Miss Nancy Covert, whose wedding last August both Miss Evans and Major Kercheval attended, as bridesmaid and best man, respectively, and at which the new bride-to-be caught the tossed bouquet.

Miss Evans is the daughter of Mrs. Emma Evans and the late Arthur E. Evans and a graduate of Carmel high school. Her brother, Hugh Evans, is now in training as a cadet in the U. S. Air Forces at Yuma, Arizona.

Major Kercheval, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Kercheval of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, graduated from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point with the class of 1941 and is now serving in a field artillery unit.

Uzzell-Littlefield Wedding

Miss Mary Jane Uzzell of Carmel and 2nd Lieutenant Robert M. Littlefield of Monterey were married on Wednesday, November 3, in the Williams Field Chapel at Chandler, Arizona.

Miss Carol Tindell, daughter of Mrs. Lansing Bailey, formerly of Carmel, now making her home in Salinas, and sister of Lieut. Tessa Blassingame of the WACs, attended as maid of honor and Second Lieutenant Howard Levinson of Carmel was best man. Mrs. Charles Littlefield accompanied the bride to Arizona in time to witness the graduation of the air cadets at Williams Field on the morning of November 3rd, at which both Robert Littlefield and Howard Levinson received their wings in the U. S. Air Corps and be present at the wedding which followed.

The new Mrs. Littlefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alsey Viert Uzzell, graduated from the Sunset school, where her mother is now a member of the faculty. Following the completion of her course at Monterey high, she graduated from San Jose State college, where she was affiliated with Phi Kappa Pi. For the past several months she has been on the staff of the Bank of Carmel. A sister, Miss Joyce Uzzell is now serving with the WAVES at Milledgeville, Georgia, and a brother, Dick Uzzell, is a senior in Carmel high school.

Lieutenant Littlefield, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Littlefield of Monterey, and a graduate of Monterey high school and Salinas Junior College, left his studies at the University of California agricultural college at Davis, where he was a resident of the Calpha house, to begin his training in the air service. His sister, Miss Zoe Littlefield, is a junior in the university of Oregon.

Palo Alto Visitor

Miss Clancy Jefferys was in Carmel this week, visiting her aunt, Mrs. Marie Short, and her two cousins, Kraig and Erik. Miss Jefferys is the daughter of Mrs. Mabel Jefferys of Palo Alto and is at present serving as a messenger at the Palo Alto Air Field.

Apple-Ducking

Little Gail Busby, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Edwin B. Schenck, was hostess on Saturday afternoon at Halloween festivities in their home on Third and Santa Rita streets, where the young guests ducked for apples, toasted hot dogs in the fireplace and played entertaining games. Present were Carol and Ginger Murphy, Tommy Petty and Louise Ellis.

Makes Honor Roll

Miss Fayless Scharff, daughter of Major and Mrs. L. D. Scharff of Carmel has been named on the first month honor roll at Ward-Belmont school, Nashville, Tennessee, where she is a member of the senior class in the preparatory school.

Back to Pasadena

Mrs. T. S. Bell and her sister, Miss Helen Freeman, returned to Pasadena this week after spending the past four months in the Bell Carmel home, where they were joined by Mr. Bell as often as business would permit. The custom of spending the summer here is a 27-year-old one with the Bell family, hence their return is always welcomed by a large number of Carmel friends made during the years.

Here from La Jolla

Mrs. Cora D. Hunter of La Jolla has been spending the past week in Carmel as guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Getsinger.

S. F. Birthday Trip

Mrs. Sue Cecil returned on Monday evening from a four-day trip to San Francisco which coincided with her birthday and during which she attended performances of Cavalleria Rusticana, Pagliacci and the Don Cossacks.

Brig. Gen. Michela Here

Brigadier-General Joseph A. Michela arrived at the Peninsula airport on Thursday of last week to spend a few days with Mrs. Michela and their five-year-old son, Bobby, in their Carmel home on north Casanova. This is Brig. Gen. Michela's first opportunity for a reunion with his family in four years, during which he has served as military attache under U. S. Ambassador Standley in Moscow. Mrs. Michela is the sister of Miss Margaret Lial.

Lt. Thomas' Parents Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Thomas, parents of Lieutenant Charles Thomas, co-author of the popular Talk It Up, now stationed at Fort Ord with an amphibian unit, flew here from their home in Tampa, Texas, for a Wednesday-to-Sunday visit with their son during the past week, and provided the motif for much entertaining. Mrs. James Cooke was hostess at a cocktail party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas; similar gatherings took place at the homes of Mrs. T. B. Wilson and Miss Caroline Pickit; Mr. Noel Sullivan was host at a dinner party for them at Hollow Hills Farm; they were guests of honor also at dinner parties given by Mrs. Gladys Young and Mr. Lee Crowe.

Choir Mothers Plan Tea

The Choir Mothers' association of All Saints' Church has set Wednesday, November 10th, as the date for the annual benefit, which this year takes the form of a silver tea to be held at the home of Mrs. Phil K. Gordon, at San Antonio and 9th Sts., between 3 and 5 p.m. Mrs. Granville Whittlesey, Mrs. C. F. Holmes and Mrs. Vera Peck Millis will pour. Choir Mothers participating, under the chairmanship of Mrs. C. J. Hulsewe are Mrs. J. Edwards, Mrs. E. H. Ewig, Mrs. Margaret Stark, Mrs. Arthur Templeman, Mrs. N. C. Reimers, Mrs. Irma Brown, Mrs. J. Haussermann, Mrs. J. Burgess, Mrs. W. B. Blanche, Mrs. J. Fowler, Mrs. B. R. Keller and Mrs. J. Zeiss. The public is cordially invited to attend Wednesday's silver tea.

Gordon Campbell Home

Lieutenant Gordon Campbell, U.S.N., returned to his post in Washington, D.C. last Monday, after nearly a week's visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Argyll Campbell, happily combined with the official business which brought him to the West Coast. Lt. Campbell is serving in a legal capacity with Under-Secretary of the Navy Forestal at the Capital.

Howard Levinson Here

Howard Levinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis H. Levinson, is spending a few days' leave at home with his family. After training for ten months as an Army Air Corps cadet, he graduated on Wednesday, November 3, from the Williams Field Army Advanced Flying school at Chandler, Arizona, receiving his pilot's wings and his commission as 2nd lieutenant. Howard spent most of his life in Carmel, graduating in June, 1942, from the Carmel high school where he was a student body president during his senior year. He entered the Army Air Corps last January and before arriving at Williams Field, his training had taken him to Santa Ana for pre-flight, Oxnard for primary and Lancaster for basic. Howard's younger brother, Louis, Jr., a senior at Carmel high school, hopes to follow his footsteps, and has just returned from San Francisco, where he was sworn into the Army Air Corps Reserve.

Theurer-Laprelle Nuptials

Mrs. Ida Theurer became the bride of Mr. Charles Laprelle in a ceremony performed by Rev. James E. Crowther at the Church of the Wayfarer at two p.m. on Sunday, October 31, before a gathering of about fifty friends.

The bride, dressed in a blue cloth suit and carrying an old-fashioned bouquet of pink roses, was attended by Mrs. Georgie Thompson as matron of honor. Mr. William Wooten of Oakland was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Colonial Terrace. On the long table, covered with its lace cloth and decorated by a single huge bowl of mixed flowers was spread a buffet wedding supper of hors d'oeuvres, sandwiches and salad. The bride cake and groom cake were cut and toasts were drunk in champagne, after which Mr. and Mrs. Laprelle departed for San Francisco and a six weeks' honeymoon trip to Mexico.

The new Mrs. Laprelle has been well known in Carmel for many years and is the owner of Colonial Terrace. Mr. Laprelle has recently retired from his extensive hotel interests in several large eastern cities as well as in New York, where he formerly made his home. Following their return from Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Laprelle will live in Carmel.

S. F. Weekend

Mr. Herbert Heron made a business trip to San Francisco over the weekend, and while there found time to attend a performance of Don Giovanni. Bert Tolerton, returning to his medical studies at the University of California, and Staff Sergeant John Short, enroute back to Camp McPherson, Georgia, rode to San Francisco with Mr. Heron.

To Meet Gripsholm

Mrs. N. A. Gorman is leaving on Sunday for New York, where about December 2 she will meet the incoming Gripsholm bearing her husband, Neil Gorman, enroute back from a Japanese internment camp in occupied China, where he has been a civilian internee for the past three years. Mr. Gorman will be reunited in Carmel with his four children, Dennis, Patricia, and the twins, Janet and Jeffery the second week in December.

Eighth Grade Conducts Drive

Tuesday, October 26, the eighth grade students under the supervision of Miss Sener, got under way with the War Chest Drive.

The first day, the committee collected $30.87 from the students of Carmel high, and by the end of the week, they had a total amount of $113.00, which is six times as much as was collected last year, and ten times more than was collected the year before that.

Sophs Take Frosh 4-2

The unconquerable Sophs of C.H.S. proved their mettle Friday by again defeating the Frosh team 4-2.

The Sophs scored first, a touchdown, Doris Lewis to Ann Hodgson. Martha Moller and Willette Torras followed with a touchdown. Joanne Carr made the only Frosh tally, a field goal.

Frosh Down Seniors

The Freshmen speedball team came in with flying colors to trounce the nine-girl Senior team 6-5, the same score by which the Seniors were taken a few days ago by the Sophs.

Sue Dekker and Diane Tait were responsible for six points of the Frosh.

Rose Gossler made three for the Seniors and Mary Ada Torras made the last two points for that team.

Close 6-5 Speedball Tilt Proves Thriller

With only seven Senior girls answering to the "call to arms," and a brand new Sophomore team for both halves, the second G.A.A. league game proved to be everything it was intended for.

It was nip and tuck ball the whole way down. For every point the Sophomores were able to accumulate, the Seniors gave plenty of competition.

The Soph team drew blood first; a field goal by Dorothy Goulart, the next point was made by Charlotte Dawson, Sophomore captain.

Mary Ada Torras was pilot for the Seniors. In the second half, the Seniors made their maximum score, a field goal by Doris Westcott, and a drop kick by Rose Gossler.

About one more minute of the last half with Senior's leading with one point and the Sophs scored their final and winning point.

men. Construction men are not hard to please, but they must eat and have a place to sleep. So the super builds them a camp. The only trouble is he is so interested in the road, that he has the road, or one part of it, done before he gets around to finishing the camp and then it's time to move on and start building another camp. The last camp was started in May. The wash house was built the last week in September, and we finished this strip and were ready to move on the 1st of October.

African Campaign Basis for Five Graves to Cairo

The war has yielded many thrilling stories for books, stage and screen so far, and there will be many more to come, but one of the most intriguing ideas yet filmed seems to be that contained in Paramount's new adventure movie, "Five Graves to Cairo," which on next Sunday the Carmel Theater brings to its screen.

The title itself is one to pique the curiosity and from all accounts the story lives up to the interest it creates, having as it does for background the titanic struggle in Africa between the British Eighth Army and Rommel's Afrika Korps. The "Five Graves to Cairo" is Rommel's secret—a secret stumbled upon in the picture by a British tank corporal in the person of personable Franchot Tone. How Tone acquires the secret of the "Five Graves to Cairo," and manages to deliver it to the British authorities provides plenty of excitement.

"Five Graves to Cairo" marks the return of Erich von Stroheim to Hollywood in a role that is probably the best he ever had—that of Field Marshall Erwin Rommel.

High School News

res went 75 miles to play the King City Mustangs, and lost the game the hard way, with a final score of 7-6.

Although transportation was a problem, the whole team plus a few rooters managed to make it.

The game opened up with Carmel receiving the ball. From there it was a good clean fight. It seemed that the Mustangs had the slight edge in the first quarter.

The second quarter opened with both teams really getting warm and near the end of the quarter the Mustangs scored with a touchdown. When they tried for the conversion point, which was kicked, it was blocked—but a Mustang player picked up the blocked kick and ran over the line for the extra point.

The last half opened up with the Padres really warmed up. We drove the Mustangs down to their own 10 yard line; then King City got the ball and started an end run in which the ball was fumbled. It was recovered by Del Wilson, who plowed over the Mustang goal line for a touchdown; the conversion failed.

In the last quarter both teams were really fighting hard. The Padres were determined to keep that one point lead.

With 1½ minutes left to play Carmel had the ball down near the Mustang goal line. After a few terrific pass plays and line plunges the Padres had 1st and five with 50 seconds to go. This was the big moment in the game—the ball was centered and a line plunge up to the 2 yard line, and the ball WAS FUMBLED, WITH THE MUSTANGS RECOVERING—from here the Mustangs kicked back to their 40 yard line and Carmel again started its drive down the field toward victory, with the final score 7-6 in favor of the Mustangs.

Jitterbug for Red Cross

The Carmel high school Junior Red Cross held a dance last Wednesday for a Red Cross benefit, and it turned out better than was expected. Scores turned up and approximately three dollars was made. That sounds trivial but when you charge ten cents a head you don't expect to rake in a fortune.

Music was as you liked it with both slow and fast tunes. A couple of jitterbugs who were the center of attraction for a while were Bill Monroe and Nancy Fitzhugh. They have practiced a lot at home and seem to have their routine down pretty well. Others who were enjoying themselves for the brief period were Coach Rudd, Carla La Porie, Mary Jane Reel, Emile Passailaigue, George McElroy, Ann Hinson, Mary McElroy, Angelo Lucido, Bonnie Fitch, Arnold Pilling, Ballard Fitch, Daniel Bell, and Miss Sheldon.

Miss Simpson in New York

Miss Marjorie Simpson is rounding out a month in the East, combining a business trip with a sojourn in New York, a visit to her alma mater, Jeanne D'Arc Academy in Boston, and the time spent with relatives in Montreal, especially with her uncle, Mr. Ernest Blatter and her uncle, M. Henri de L'Epinay, manufacturer of that city. Miss Simpson will return to her Carmel home on November 18.

Gannie Seiberlich to Wed

Announcement was made this week of the wedding plans of Miss Gannie Seiberlich and Mr. Carl Spain, Jr. Miss Seiberlich is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Seiberlich of San Francisco. For the past two years she has made her home in Carmel, at Sutton Place, and is a member of the staff of the Carmel branch of the Monterey County Trust and Savings Bank. Mr. Spain is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Spain of Los Angeles. He is a graduate of the University of California and is at present an engineer with the Westinghouse company in Portland, Oregon. The engagement rings which Mr. Spain and his brother have presented to their brides-to-be are a pair which were originally worn by their grandmother.

The wedding of Miss Seiberlich and Mr. Spain will take place in

I'm sure you have probably seen her before, but let me introduce an utterly charming young lady who has just arrived in town again with a host of her tiny friends. Ladies and gentlemen, will you meet Miss Pantalettes. You know now that I speak of the famous Royal Dolton figurines... all happily ensconced in their favorite Carmel shop, MERLE'S TREASURE CHEST on the corner of Lincoln and Ocean, and very fresh looking in spite of their long journey from England. Among them, Autumn Breeze. On Top of the Hill, The Old Balloon Seller, Miss Demure, and many Dicken's characters ranging in size, from the very smallest to the largest. Their colors are ever lovely and china lovers, gift seekers... I needn't tell you how rarely you will find Old Dolton these days, and what precious little gifts they make.

CARMEL

San Francisco soon after the first of the year and is the culmination of a romance which dates from their high school days.

It's Dr. Menoher Now

Mrs. Tuthill Menoher spent the weekend of October 29 in San Francisco and attended the graduation exercises of the University of California where her daughter Nancy received her degree from the U. C. College of Medicine. After three days in Carmel Doctor Nancy Menoher left for Los Angeles where she will take up her duties at the L. A. County General Hospital.

Dr. Menoher's brother, Ensign Pearson T. Menoher, U.S.N.R., received his engineering degree from the University of California last June and is now attending the Navy training school at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York, where he will remain for five months.

Michael Autry, Oct. 28

Lieutenant and Mrs. Gilbert Autry of Dolores street became the parents of a boy, born at the Community Hospital on Thursday, October 28, and have named him Michael Osborne.

Horns, Bells and Games

Little Miss Margot Zeiss, assisted by her mother, Mrs. Fred R. Zeiss, her elder sister, Penelope and Valerie Patrick, entertained a group of friends on Saturday afternoon at her home on Lincoln street and 12th. There were all sorts of delightful Halloween games and a fish pond, from which Margot and her guests drew wonderful noise-makers. Then, armed with horns, crackers and bells, they marched around the block and returned to find refreshments of orange crush, doughnuts, cookies and popcorn awaiting them. Present for these festivities were Renee Wurzmann, Jill Hefling, Eddie Post, Ronnie Smith, Lee Smith and Philip Marcus.

Friday's Girl

Barbara Lee Petty was born on Friday, October 29, at the Community Hospital, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Petty of Santa Fe and Third streets.

With Jack O' Lanterns

Jeanne Lambert and Jean Southwell were co-hostesses on Friday evening, October 29, at a gala Halloween costume party given in the Girl Scout house. Black and orange crepe paper festooned the room and lights blinked through Jack o' lantern eyes while their young guests danced, played games, enjoyed refreshments of cider, cup cakes, coca cola, apples and candy and listened to the humorous recitation of Jean's father Mr. James Southwell, Jr. Prizes for the best costumes were won by Paul Artellan as Pop Eye and Betty Lou Cochran in a dainty old fashioned hoop-skirt gown of pink and black. The cracker contest was won by Dan Holmes and winners at musical chairs were Louise Daniels and Linne Bardarson. In addition to the prize winners, the guests included Joan Templin, Marjorie Glennon, Connie Melchoir, Louise Harber, Joan Flieg, Joan Alice Dillingham, Adele Jenne, Jeannette Reel, Jackie Briggs, Barbara Lauer, Patricia Timbers, Anne Wales, Sheila Whitaker, Howard DeAmaral, Harry Watson, Gunnar Reimers, Charles Olmsted, Arthur Harber, Elton Clark, Bill Williams, Roland Calder, Dick Summers and Dick Gargiulo.

Ede Jordan Home

Ede Jordan, 18-year-old son of Mrs. Sylvia Meeter Jordan of the Sunset school faculty leaves today after a week's furlough between quarters to return to the University of Montana, where for the past three and a half months he has been taking an intensive engineering course under the Army Special Training Plan. This is Ede's first visit home since March 15, when he left for basic Army training at Camp Callan, near San Diego. From there he was sent to Chaffee Junior college near Ontario, California, before entering on his present two-year course at the University of Montana, a highly specialized one which fits the trainees for services in the various armies of occupation, now and during the post-war period. Ede Jordan graduated from Carmel high school with the class of June, 1942.

Dempsey-Martineau Wedding Plans

Mrs. James Arthur Dempsey of Camino Real and 12th streets is this week announcing the betrothal of her daughter, Miss Agnese Dempsey, to Lieutenant Ralph W. Martineau, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Martineau, of Cleveland, Ohio. The wedding will take place next month in Los Angeles.

Miss Dempsey, the daughter of the late James Arthur Dempsey of New York and Mrs. Dempsey, came to Carmel with her mother last spring and since June has been serving as a secretary in the academic department of the Navy Pre-Flight school at Del Monte. She is a graduate of Hunter College, New York, and holds a degree also from Columbia University, where she did post-graduate work. Lt. Martineau, a graduate of Ohio State University, is at present on desert maneuvers with a cavalry unit formerly stationed at Fort Ord.

Country Club Dance

The entertainment committee of the Monterey Peninsula Country club is announcing a Fall Dance to be held at the clubhouse on Friday evening, November 12, with music furnished by Bill Pierce and his orchestra.
